The great Democratic National Convention assembled at Chicago Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and after a brief session adjourned until Wednesday morning.

The Convention re-assembled at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning and effected a permanent organization, electing the Hon. Wm. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, Permanent Chairman.

The evening session was devoted to the election of delegates to the State of Indiana.

The delegates to the State of Indiana were elected by a vote of 100 to 0.

Why Democratic Shies are Bright.

When Benjamin Harrison and Grover Cleveland were the respective candidates of their parties for the Presidency four years ago, says the Memphis Appeal.

At that time, the situation was different from what it is to-day.

The old-fashioned system of voting prevailed all over the country.

In the State of Indiana Dullay was able to divide the frontier.

He blocked off the place which he had under the supervision of a political guard and have them taken up to the polls and voted.

Under the old system a deal could be made, and it was possible to see that a voter cast the ballot he was bribed to cast.

But since then the Australian system has been adopted, every man in India can cast a secret ballot.

The Australian system has now been adopted in 35 States, and the workmen need no longer be afraid of the ballot.

In the State of Indiana the factory centers have been closely watched, and his franchise has been largely controlled by the protected manufacturer.

Men have been threatened with discharge, and have been discharged, if they failed to vote for the high protection party.

As these workmen began to study economic questions they soon perceived the fraud of the protective tariff.

They knew that the tariff was never increased with the increase of duties; often indeed after an election which was decided whether or not the wages of the American workmen were to be maintained.

The tariff was never increased with the increase of duties; often indeed after an election which was decided whether or not the wages of the American workmen were to be maintained.

Our Pension Roll.

We commend to thoughtful men of all shades of political opinion the following remarkable statement, copied from the Philadelphia Times. Comment on the facts and suggestions therein contained is unnecessary.

"One year ago there were 65,000 names on our pension roll; the close of the present year, ending with the present month, there will be about 85,000 names on the pension roll, or an increase of 20,000 names."

It is many as the entire force of Grant's armies at the close of the war.

We are now issuing new pensions at the rate of nearly a quarter of a million dollars a year.

At the close of the coming fiscal year the pension roll will reach 1,000,000, with the probability that that number will be exceeded. In short we are likely soon to have on our pension roll more names than were on the entire army roll when the war ended at Appomattox.

Some years ago the cost of the war, when the pension appropriation had grown to the then sum of $100,000,000, was $100,000,000.

General Garfield, Chairman of Appropriations, in reporting to the House that session for the first time, felt called upon to apologize for the unexpected increase, and as the House and country had the pension appropriation had reached its highest point, and that it would be speedily decreased.

Five years ago the steady growth of pension cost the annual appropriation up to $100,000,000. It was then believed that high water mark had been reached, and such assurances were then given to the country by those who had feared the pension roll would be so large that the actual expenditures for the next three years up to the starting point of $100,000,000, would be three times the amount of the entire revenues of the Government when Lincoln was elected President.

If we shall continue to increase pension claims the next fiscal year, we will have fully 1,000,000 of pensioners, costing the Government $200,000,000 annually. We then were in the Union army at any time during the war.

A Creamery in Prospective.

Mr. Young, representing the firm of Davis & Hankin, Chicago, Indiana of creameries and cheese factories, met a number of citizens at the store of Cowgill & Cowgill, last Friday morning, and after a very full and detailed statement of the advantages and disadvantages of creameries, proposed to pay the expenses of a committee of four persons to Chicago to inspect the workings of several factories near there, a thorough investigation of the subject and report to the meeting on their return.

According to the statements of Mr. Young, a creamery would be a great addition to our interests, giving to our farmers a much larger yield from their grazing lands than beef cattle, besides keeping the creamery near there a thorough investigation of the subject and report to the meeting on their return.
